CSE Handbook states:

"All academic work must be your own. Plagiarism, defined as copying or receiving materials from a source or sources and submitting this material as one's own without acknowledging the particular debts to the source (quotations, paraphrases, basic ideas), or otherwise representing the work of another as one's own, is never allowed. Collaboration, usually evidenced by unjustifiable similarity, is never permitted in individual assignments. Any submitted academic work may be subject to screening by software programs designed to detect evidence of plagiarism or collaboration."

"It is your responsibility to maintain the security of your computer accounts and your written work. Do not share passwords with anyone, nor write your password down where it may be seen by others. Do not change permissions to allow others to read your course directories and files. Do not walk away from a workstation without logging out. These are your responsibilities. In groups that collaborate inappropriately, it may be impossible to determine who has offered work to others in the group, who has received work, and who may have inadvertently made their work available to the others by failure to maintain adequate personal security. In such cases, all will be held equally liable."

CSE 4/521 Syllabus states:

"There is a very fine line separating conversation pertaining to concepts and academic dishonesty. You are allowed to converse about general concepts, but in no way are you allowed to share code or have one person do the work for others. You must abide by the UB and Departmental Academic Integrity policy at all times.

NOTE: Remember that items taken from the Internet are also covered by the academic integrity policy! If you are unsure if a particular action violates the academic integrity policy, assume that it does until you receive clarification from the instructor."

"This semester, all projects will be checked using an electronic cheat checking system. We reserve the right to check or question any portion of any work submitted at any time during the semester or afterwards. If you are caught violating the academic integrity policy, you will minimally receive a ZERO in the course."

Student Statement

I have unintentionally or intentionally violated the school's academic integrity policy in the following way in this course (please check all the boxes that apply to your situation):

☐  I have collaborated with another student on an individual project
☐  I have copied code directly (with minor modification) from another student without their knowledge
☐  I have copied code directly (with minor modification) from another student WITH their knowledge
☐  I have used another student's code as a guide/template, but I did not cut/paste at all
☐  I had someone else write some code for me
☐  I have given my code to another student to assist them

I promise that this is now the truth, and if I am lying, I will accept an "F-with dishonor" in the course if Dr. Ramamurthy feels that this is warranted after her review of the situation.

✔ I have marked the above situations that apply and understand the consequences if I am lying.
